FOR IMMEDIATE RELEASE

“Infotegrity and Badger Technology report results of first year partnership for outsource services.”

Infotegrity, LLC and Badger Technologies, Inc., a DeltaPoint Capital Management Company, announced results of their first year as managed service business partners. Badger, along with Infotegrity, implemented Oracle’s E-Business Suite to integrate and manage financial, manufacturing, order management and purchasing requirements within their contract manufacturing operation. Infotegrity was initially selected for Badger’s Oracle implementation, and then as Badger’s outsource partner for on-going support of their entire Oracle systems environment (i.e. Oracle E-Business Suite, Oracle Database, Reports and Discoverer).

Badger Technologies CFO, Jeff Sullivan, stated: “Badger depends on the integrated Oracle E-Business Suite and Infotegrity’s professional people and proven processes to cost effectively manage our contract manufacturing operation. Infotegrity provides the requisite support services that help us manage the business and remain competitive with domestic and off-shore manufacturers. Since we went live with Oracle and Infotegrity, we have maintained 100% system availability and a high degree of end user satisfaction, which has exceeded our expectations.”

Infotegrity co-founder, Steve Hersh stated “We are pleased to be Badger Technologies business partner, and are delighted that our innovative tools, techniques and technologies, along with our team, deliver collaborative service and support solutions and complementary skills to meet Badger’s needs. We met Badger’s initial challenge to implement Oracle’s E-business Suite in 90 days relying on our best practice method, Infotegrity/Rapid, and have fulfilled on-going support needs with our managed service solution; Infotegrity/Assist. Badger can be assured that Infotegrity will continue to exceed expectations for support with aggressive service level agreement (SLA) targets, return on investment (ROI) and other metrics such as maintaining the all latest Oracle release levels.”
